Rock River Claims Two Young Victims

TWO YOUNG MEN DIE IN RIVER WHEN CANOE SPILLS

FRANCIS McCUE AND PHILIP FRANCIS CUN-
NINGHAM VICTIMS
SUNDAY

DOUBLE TRAGEDY Youths Die While Battling to Reach Shore as Help Draws Near.

Two found watery graves here last night, Rock river's first toll of the season.
Francis McCue, 20, a Parker Pen office employee, son of Michael McCue, 552 Benton avenue, and Francis Cunningham, 22, a Mercantile & Savings bank messenger, son of Thomas Cunningham, 511 South Garfield avenue, were the victims when their canoe overturned about 8 o'clock in midstream opposite the Croak brewery above the upper railroad trestle at Fourth avenue. Cunningham's body was recovered at midnight by Cornelius Oas, 378 Glen street. That of McCue was found at 4:30 this morning by Captain William J. Peterson and Driver Joseph Meyers of the police department.

But One Witness.
Explicit cause for the upsetting of the canoe is clouded in the maze of stories related of the accident. One is that the boys were fooling in the light craft, and the other that the waves from a launch caused the canoe to upset.

Fred Stamper, colored, gives perhaps the most clear account of the tragedy. Close investigation this morning found no other eyewitnesses. "I was sitting on the pile of ties, just below the brewery and watching the boats on the river," Stamper explained. "The canoe was going up the river. A launch, I believe it was Jack Little's, was going up. The boys were in mid-stream and the motor boat passed them on the brewery or west side, about 100 feet away. A wave from the launch overturned the canoe."

Cries Are Unheard Then.
"Both hung on for awhile and only started to swim ashore. The other shouted, 'Just take it easy. You'll make it.'"

"This was after they had first shouted for help. The people in the launch were two or three hundred feet away by this time and could not hear them."
"I thought they were going to make shore all right when all at once I saw the canoe was down. I ran to the bank to search for a boat to go to the other. He began to cry for help and I could not hear him, because his voice sounded as though he was choking with water. All the time he was clinging to the canoe. I saw the canoe and the launch overturned the canoe."

Launch Arrives Late.
"Charlie Preston came along in his boat and then saw the overturned canoe. He was about 100 feet away, the one clinging to the canoe loosened his hold and sank."
"Mr. Preston, who lives on South Franklin street said, 'I was near the ice-house on the east bank, when I thought I heard a party. I shut off the engine to listen and saw the overturned canoe. We thought it was a party of swimmers playing in the water with the craft. Then we saw Fred Stamper and from his cries knew what was the matter. By this time our momentum had carried up some distance past the boy in the water and by the time we had started to turn back, the circle to avert our own tipping had slipped off.'"

Hundreds soon gathered on the bank and the search began. Preston informed the police and took them to the spot where he thought the last boy, believed to have been Cunningham, was. The sky was darkening just previous to the storm and a position automobile was placed in front of the bank and their spot and searchlights played over the boats and the men with the drag-hooks. Mr. Little could not be located this morning to give his version, but from residents near the launch club house it was learned that he knew absolutely nothing of the catastrophe until he returned downstream with his launch party. The McCue youth owned the canoe and was an expert swimmer. He had been on the water throughout the afternoon and had had supper at home.

Friends recognizing the canoe called his father and his brother, who were in the launch. They were recovered and identified. Even then there was no word of the whereabouts of Cunningham. It was not determined until the police officers found the body.

Stamper said that the boys were found in the canoe and the searchers asserted the statement that one of the boys had on a pair of blue pants was true.

Both young men were particular friends of Clarence McGinley, seriously injured Saturday in the Milwaukee railway yards.
Both were graduates of the Janesville high school, McCue in 1917 and Cunningham in 1918.

SEC. HULL TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

State Official Makes Formal
Announcement of His Candidacy.

Madison, June 14.—Secretary of State Meritt Hull made formal announcement of his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor today.
"The argument is heard that as I shall not have large campaign funds nor the backing of a political machine, I should remain out of the contest," said Mr. Hull. "That argument makes me all the more ambitious to challenge the assumption that only men of wealth or men backed by political machine may aspire to political preferment. I don't believe the recent world war was fought to make the world safe for that kind of democracy. If organized wealth is responsible for so many of the conditions which the people complain as is constantly alleged it is only because organized wealth and organized rings of politicians have gone hand in hand."

Harding Is Feted By Friends and Foes

Washington, June 14.—Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican presidential nominee, who arrived here last night from Chicago, put in his evening here receiving the congratulations of friends and clearing up pending matters in connection with the campaign. He found time to play a round of golf at a neighboring country club.
No Statement Now.
The republican nominee announced that for the present he would have no statement to make. He reached his office shortly before noon and after posing for the moving picture men, was given a formal reception by senate employees. He seemed in the height of good humor, and kept up a running fire of humorous comment.
Hundreds of Telegrams.
At his office the senator found several hundred telegrams of congratulations, as well as a large batch of mail. Among the telegrams were messages from his father, Dr. George Harding, and sister, Abigail, and from former President Taft. Charles E. Hughes, Senator Brian Johnson, Gov. Coolidge, the senator's running mate, Senator Knox, and a number of others.
Congressional Approval.
Senator Harding was especially pleased with a telegram from John Philip Sousa which said:
"Bless your musical soul. May God's harmonies be with you forever."
No engagements were made today for Senator Harding, who desired to rest as much as possible, and then strenuous work at Chicago. The senator said he had no definite plans but that he probably would leave Washington for good tomorrow, controlling the last part of the week. He plans to confer before Monday with Chairman Will H. Hays of the republican national committee and then will take in rest before going to his home at Marion, Ohio, about July 1.

COURT DISMISSES CHARGES AGAINST PARTNER, BELLMAN

SENSATIONAL EVANSVILLE ARSON CASE
COMES TO CLOSE.

SET BLAZE ALONE Williams Contradicts First Confession in Which He Implicated Bellman.

Five years at hard labor in the state penitentiary at Waupun was the sentence pronounced on J. S. Williams, confessed Evansville incendiary, by Judge H. L. Maxfield in municipal court here at noon today. The case against his partner, Edward Bellman, was dismissed for lack of evidence.
Williams pleaded guilty Saturday to having set the fire which destroyed the Bellman & Williams garage at Evansville early in the morning of May 27. In court today he contradicted his confession in which he implicated Bellman. He made claims that the fire was accidental, due to an explosion, but admitted going home without sounding an alarm.
"I thought it would make a fine place for a new building, was the only reason he advanced today."

Wife Breaks Down

Williams received sentence with no outward signs of emotion. His wife, a tense listener in the court room throughout the three hours of the Bellman hearing this morning, broke down. Facing the prospect of caring for their three children, 4, 11, and 13 years, while her husband spends five years behind the bars, she could withstand the strain no longer.
In pronouncing his decision, Judge Maxfield made a remarkable talk in which he expressed pity for Williams' wife and children who are the real sufferers. He told Williams that he prepared himself for the possibility of having more than ordinary intelligence, especially as a witness.

Bellman Not Guilty

The hearing this morning was a feature of the case. Williams' confession in which he implicated Bellman, was contradicted by Bellman. Williams admitted having been in the garage at the time of the fire. "Somebody would be glad to have the key to your cellar," said Attorney Nolan to the jury.

Had Been Drinking

Through cross-examination by District Attorney S. G. Dunnwiddie, Williams admitted having been drinking. "Somebody would be glad to have the key to your cellar," said Attorney Nolan to the jury.

One of these was said to have been known to have "double cause" for enmity toward the dead man. The other is said to have been a bachelor who resented Elwell's attentions to a woman of their acquaintance.

Police theories on motives for the killing today swung from jealousy to revenge arising out of a dispute over heavy betting. Inquiry also was under way to find out where Elwell spent the early hours of Friday morning after he had left a midnight roof garden party with two men. His bed at home had not been slept in, the police asserted, although Elwell shot through the forehead, was on the bed.

Princess Alfred zu Hohenlohe-Schillingfuerst and two children.

The prince is an Austrian, but his estates are in Galicia, now a part of Poland, so his status in this country is that of an ally. He has no trouble, therefore, in bringing the princess and their two children to Washington for a visit with the princess' parents.

OFFERS SOLUTION TO NEGRO PROBLEM

Lieut. York Urges U. S. Aid For Struggling Republic, Liberia.

A plan for solving the negro problem in this vicinity was offered by Lieut. William York in his address last evening at the Federated church. It was that this country should lend a helping hand to the struggling little republic of Liberia and in doing so find an outlet for the energy of the find and better class colored people of America.

"There are about 35,000 colored graduates of colleges and normal schools in the United States," he said, "but there is small chance of their being able to do anything like equal privileges with white people in this country. Liberia needs their trained intellects and character not attainable here."

Lieutenant York went over to Liberia with colored troops when the U. S. offered help to that republic in 1847, and was stationed on the border, remaining there for several years. He gave an interesting resume of the resources of that country, and stated that America can profit by its developing commerce and relations with it. He expressed regret that the United States did not see its opportunity at the close of the world war of Africa, as they hold immense possibilities in the way of commerce. This plan had been adopted and the development commenced with the States it would have helped the negro, which is rapidly becoming more acute, as the colored population is growing more numerous, he said.

York is a former resident of Janesville. When a boy he attended Sunday school at the Congregational church here.

NINE BAPTIZED AT FEDERATED CHURCH

Children of all ages, from babies held in their parents' arms to the young people of the Sunday school taking part in the program given yesterday morning at the Federated church.

The babies were the center of the interest, but the place of honor was easily held by twin baby boys of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Harker, who were christened Charles Bartlett Harker and Thomas Bartlett Harker. The other children baptized were, Vincent, James DeWitt Patton, Edna Fairfield Horn, Jean Olive Edwards, Barbara Louise Marshall and Theodore Sovarhill, Arthur.

Twenty children sang a beginners song in which Margaret Sutherland represented a pink rose, Wayne Taylor a daisy. Phoebe McIntosh a forget-me-not, and Terrill Hall a buttercup. Miss Erna Tonn, Mrs. Charles Sutherland and Mrs. J. A. Meirose were in charge of this group.

A song by about forty children of the primary grade was directed by Miss Lenore Casford, and an elaborate pageant entitled "Rights of the Child" was given by the older children with Miss Ruth Jeffers and Mrs. Allen Lovejoy in charge. The "Solitudes of Religious Education," Dorothy Bolton, the "Spirit of the City Beautiful," Marge, the "City Spirit," Child, the "City Spirit," Junior Red Cross, and Marguerite Duthie and Louise McNeely, girls of the W. C. T. U., represented the spirit of the "Destruction of Home Life." Evil spirits summoned to war and were Helen, "Paisihood," Jessie Johnson, "Paisihood," Beulah Ransom, and Margaret Spoon, "Selfishness." The spirit of education was personified by Fred Hyatt, and that of religion by Allen Atwood. The home, while personating the home mother in the opening scene.

Appropriate music was presented as a running accompaniment to the action of the pageant by the choir led by E. J. Clark.

The pulpit was enlarged to permit effective grouping and vases of flowers formed pleasing decorations as settings to the pictures presented.

CHILDREN ADRIFT ON LAKE 25 HOURS; LAD OF 9 IS HERO

(By Associated Press.)

Detroit, June 14.—With the passage of 1,000 miles passengers mangled with the sons by hysterical women, the four children who had been adrift in a small row boat for more than 25 hours in Lake Erie were rescued by the steamer City of Toledo, which arrived before noon Sunday, 30 miles from shore.

The children drifted from Lakeside, Mich., at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, and while they were far from land two of them who got out of the boat were rescued by a party of old Merwin Dase, one of the party.

Oldest Aged 9
The children are: Robert, aged 9; Richard 6, and Merwin, 2, sons of Merwin Dase, 249 Maplewood avenue, Toledo, and Violet Sperry, their 11-year-old cousin, who had first cousin, 11 years old, who had been living with the Dase family at Lakeside.

Squatting on the second deck of the steamer, the hero of the adventure told the passengers just how it happened. They started out from Lakeside with a broken oar and two sticks, intending to push themselves along the shallow shore. Soon they were a long way out, he told the passengers, and with a wind blowing they could not get the boat headed back for Lakeside.

Violet was suffering from the sunburn Saturday afternoon and did "a lot of crying," Merwin said. Late in the afternoon she conceived the bright idea to get out and push the boat.

She could not touch bottom of course and Merwin was afraid she was going to drown. When she was unable to climb back into the boat and the boy found it impossible to pull her in he placed a rope around her waist and tied it to the bottom of the boat.

For a long time it looked as if "Violet" would have to trail along the water, but Merwin finally succeeded in getting her into the boat. With her clothes soaking wet Violet was "about all in" Merwin told the passengers and soon went to sleep.

Saturday night "Bob" got into trouble. He insisted in prowling about the flat bottomed craft and fell overboard. Merwin at once plunged into the lake and keeping one hand on the boat caught Bob by his rompers and pulled him back in.

Bob soon went to sleep and Violet woke up. Violet proceeded from the rear to the front of the boat to see how Bob was getting on and nearly fell overboard. Merwin insisted that she "turn in" after that.

Merwin does Well.
As it began to get dark they all became frightened but Merwin decided to take "command" and ordered the others to go to sleep, telling them he would wake them up after he had "done the water."

During the night "Dick" Violet and little Bob took turns at watching for ships. Dick said that during his watch two tugs passed them and Merwin confirmed this. For he was awakened by the "first mate." They did a lot of hollering, Merwin said, but the tugs went on their way.

With the rising of the sun Sunday Merwin decided to take off his hat and shawl, and placing it on the end of a stick, he lay down on his back, hoping that a passing ship might pick up his party. The sun soon became too hot and Merwin, unable to stand the heat, pulled down the signal and again took to paddling.

When the city of Toledo "hove in sight" Merwin and Dick, one with the broken oar and the other with a stick were doing their best to send the rowboat drifting farther into the lake. Violet was crying, pushing the hungry and cold water on her blistered back while Bob curled in sleep in the bow.

Coolidge to "Finish Job" As Governor

Boston, June 14.—Governor Coolidge returned to his desk at the state house to "finish his job." This was the word which came from the executive chamber in reply to the question whether he would resign in order to devote himself entirely to the republican national campaign in the interests of Senator Harding and himself.

Always Finishes Job. The governor will offer to assist in the campaign, but according to his secretary, his activity will be conditional on his ability to do full justice to the demands of his present office. He has finished every job he has ever undertaken and intends to complete his record as governor without slighting the job in order to try for another, the secretary said.

Reaffirming Statutes. Governor Coolidge has before him several important state matters including a special session of the legislature next fall to re-affirm the statutes.

To the many telegrams of congratulation received yesterday, scores were added today.

SUES FOR MILLION IN KING WILL CASE

Means Charges Bribery to Get
False Testimony Against Him.

New York, June 14.—Suit for $1,000,000 damages was filed in federal court here today by attorneys for Gaston B. Means against Assistant District Attorney Swan and Assistant John T. Dooley.

The complainant charges the defendants with conspiring with officials of the Northern Trust company of Chicago "to obtain and corruptly induce to testify falsely against the plaintiff in his trial for murder of Mrs. Maud A. Robinson King and to defeat probable cause of arrest of James C. King, Chicago, her husband."

The alleged bribery and corruption was said to have been practiced during the trial of Means at Concord, N. C. Means who served as business agent for Mrs. King, was acquitted. The complaint charges attempts by Swan and Dooley to convict plaintiff of the crime of murder, have him executed or incarcerated and failing in this design as they did, to bring about and corruptly induce through false and libelous publications furnished to the press by said defendants as would have the effect of discrediting the plaintiff as a witness in retrial of the probate of the will in the city of Chicago, the ultimate object of said conspiracy being to defeat the probate of said King will. This will dispose of a $4,000,000 estate.

NO AFFECT HERE. Chicago pushed the clock ahead an hour yesterday, but the Windy City's daylight saving scheme will not affect local train schedules, both depots announced today.

Life Sketch of Warren Harding

Warren G. Harding has always been a resident of Ohio, which state he has represented as United States senator since 1914. In private business life he is publisher of the Marion, Ohio, Star.

He was born on a farm, near the village of Bloomington, Morrow county, Ohio, November 2, 1865, the eldest of eight children. His father, George T. Harding, was a country doctor, whose forebears came from Scotland. Before going to Ohio, the Hardings were residents of Pennsylvania, where some of them were massacred by Indians. Others fought in the revolutionary war. The mother of Warren, Mrs. Phoebe Dickerson, was descended from an old-time Holland Dutch family, the Van Kirks.

In his youth Warren Harding lived the life of a farmer boy attending the village school until 14 years of age, when he entered Ohio Central college of Iberia, from which he was graduated. As editor of the college paper he first displayed a talent for journalism. He was obliged to stop school now and then and earn the money with which to pursue his college course. At one time he cut corn, at another painted barns and at still another drove a team and helped to grade the roadbed of a new railway. At 17 he taught a district school and played a horn in the village brass band.

At odd times he worked in the village printing office, in time becoming an expert typesetter and later a linotype operator. He is a practical pressman and a job printer, and as a "make up man" is said to have few equals. The luck piece he has carried as a Senator is the old printer's rule he used when he was sticking type.

In 1884 Dr. Harding moved his family to Marion. A short time afterward the father purchased for Warren Harding The Star, then a small paper.

On the paper Warren Harding performed every function from devil to managing editor. In all the years the senator has owned it there has never been a strike or a threatened one.

Senator Harding is closely identified with many other large business enterprises in Marion and other parts of the state. He is director of a bank and several large manufacturing plants and is a trustee of the Trinity Baptist church.

Mr. Harding has twice represented the 13th Senatorial district of Ohio in the state legislature and served one term as lieutenant governor. At the 1914 election Harding was elected United States senator by a majority of more than 100,000, running 73,000 ahead of the next highest on the ticket. In the senate he is a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Senator Harding married Miss Florence Kling in 1891.

Big Success Marks First Grade School Track Meet; Washinton School Stars

BY FRANK SINCLAIR

Creating a tremendous enthusiasm and sense of competition among the youngsters, the first annual track meet of the Janesville grade schools went off with a banging success Saturday. Ninety-five boys, ranging in weight from 60 pounds to 125, took part with a vim not looked for by the officials.

From the starting of the first event at 9:30 until the announcement was made of the final results at noon, the young athletes put their all into the contests. Rivalry between the seven schools entered was keen. Desire to win places in the various events was high, so much so that some of the boys refused to heed the warnings of older people to rest instead of practicing just before an event.

The track for the running events was in good shape and the runways and pits for the jumps in readiness, thanks to the cooperation afforded by the meet was held, by Charles E. Y. M. C. A., under whose auspices the Janesville Park association.

Washington school boys again demonstrated their prowess along the lines of athletics. Among the boys recently entering the city school basketball championship in the heavy weight class, and now showing up pretty well in the grade school basketball league, they walked away with first place with a total of 64 points, which was nine more than second place. Adams, St. Mary's, and Lincoln, each with 55 points, followed.

For the first time in the history of the city, the Washington school boys won the basketball championship.

One thing above all was demonstrated at the meet—considerable good material will be furnished the high school for better and promoting its athletic activities, which have been dormant for some years. Next year, according to J. A. Steiner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., the meet should be conducted upon a larger scale and the girls can be included. This year's classes were the most satisfactory from the number of entries received than was anticipated. Several individual stars were brought out, and a greater interest in school sports can be brought about in the city, and more co-operation be had from all concerned, these boys can be of considerable value in building up athletics here and indirectly strengthen the bodies and spirit of the youth of the city.

William Austin, competing in class 3, 95 to 110 pounds, showed the best form of those taking part. He walked off with three first places with an easy style, taking the standing broad at 7 ft. 1 in., the running high with 4 ft. 2 in., and the running broad by a leap of 14 ft. 10 in.

Arthur Teal was another surprise. A member of class A, 51 to 55 pounds, he also took three firsts, stalling in the running broad, and the running high. Another comer is Alfred Meyer of Class 1, 60 to 80 pounds. He copied the top position in the 75 yard dash and also in the standing broad and running broad jumps.

Little Owen Trevonah of Class 1, excited the admiration of all concerned with his true sportsman ideals. His display of fight was great, getting him a second in the running high and a third in the standing broad.

Heats for Races

In the foot races, because of the number of entries, as many as five heats had to be run in some of the events. This despite the fact that a boy could enter only three events.

The half-mile relay, won by the Washington school, was the most exciting number of the day. Here school interest was displayed in more than any other event and the gathering of girls who came to witness their "Hercules" cheered lustily.

Officials were: Supervisor and scorer, J. A. Steiner; assistant su-

Lakota Tribe Rally in Woods On Wednesday

The Lakotas get "back to the woods" Wednesday when they hold their annual pow-wow at Lake Koshkonong. Big preparations are being made to entertain in excess of 100 of the local tribesmen. Indications are the occasion will be a gala event in the history of Lakota outings.

Because the once lowly "spud" is now too dear, Chairman Frank F. Flaherty today announced that the potato race has been abandoned, but that a corn cob competition, with similar rules, will be held. Additionally, there will be three-legged spurs, two-legged dashes and several other innovations in the line of field sports.

The big attraction of the afternoon will be the baseball game between the married and single men. "Joe Cantillon" Denning is lining up the "yet to bees," while Walter La Verne "Boss Oleson" Carle and William P. "Connie Mack" Langdon are supervising the building up of the team composed of the corpulent benefactors.

Big League Stars that the married gentry will have a walkway. To substantiate his statement, the Slippery Elm groceryman today officially released the secret list of the red blood which listed the squad from which he expects to pick the aggregation which will take the side money from the single men. Looking over the pages, we noted the following pseudonyms:

Slim Salice Schwartz, Babe Ruth McCue, Dick Kerr Cudlow, Johnny Collins Cunningham, Nemo Liebold Jones, Nick Carter Richards, Bert Gallia Jones, Ty Williams Levy, Eddie Rousch, Yass, Wingo Figgel, Jake Daubert Langdon, and Tra-gessor Snuff Johnson. There are a lot more but "Pat" closed the diary before we could copy the rest. All in all it looks like a strong lineup.

Single Men Refused to give up a line on his lineup of the squad members. "It is known, however, that Victor Laudermark, Hemming will do the twisting, and will be assisted behind the bat by Reno Schang Koch, and the rest of the unlicensed not in the field.

After the game there is going to be a big feed. Chairman Flaherty has as his assistants such culinary experts as Ralph "Orville" Morse, Martin "Sink" Kennedy, Cholly "Coffee Shop" McDonald, and Jack "Wal-dorf" Conley.

The picnic site is at the "All In" cottage. Markers will be placed along the route to direct the autoists on their trip. Cars are scheduled to leave the club rooms as early as noon and continuing until 7 p. m. Any of the Lakotas plan to spend the entire day there. Many will arrive early and fish throughout the morning.

RAILS-MONROE END LONG BATTLE IN ROW

Without the services of "Speck" McIntire because he was severely injured in an accident at the yards Saturday, in which both his legs were crushed, the St. Paul Rails journeyed to Monroe yesterday and played a 12 inning tie game with the town team of that place. The battle ended in a row by the spectators when the score stood 4 to 4.

Trouble started when a base runner, trying to get home from third, eluded the Rails catcher who, running after him, touched him hard on the back. The crowd thought he was purposely striking the basemen, which the catcher denied.

Other runners on the base tried to steal during the argument, making things worse, until finally it was decided to call the battle off.

Carroll started the pitching for the Rails because of the absence in the early innings of Fire, and held the Monroe team scoreless.

The row was not between the Monroe and Rails players, but the crowd was entirely at fault. Players from both sides agreeing to a decision, but the crowd would not leave the field so that play could be resumed. The Rails have no kick coming on the umpire, who was fair in this.

FOREIGN PRESS IS NON-COMMITTAL ON HARDING ELECTION

[By Associated Press.]
London, June 14.—Warren G. Harding's personality and record being virtually unknown here, newspaper comment here this morning expresses neither satisfaction nor disappointment over the republican presidential candidate.

Several newspapers, after from cable reports that he represents a compromise. Two or three journals assume the result of the Chicago convention has opened the possibility of the election of a democrat to the presidency which of late has been regarded here as extremely improbable.

Slates Hoover for Democrats

Among those taking this view are the London Times and the Daily News, the latter telling the democrat "the best card they can play is to persuade Herbert Hoover to accept their nomination in spite of everything."

The future of the league of nations and of British-American relations are points much discussed in the light of the nomination of Mr. Harding. The Morning Post, a stern opponent of the league, says:

"Mr. Harding is a politician, not an idealist, and predicts that the republicans win the league will fall to the dusty stage of pious resolution."

PARIS SAYS HARDING IS BOSSES' TRIUMPH

Paris, June 14.—Few newspapers in his city venture to comment on the action of the republican national convention in Chicago although they all devote considerable space to the nominations.

"It is a triumph of the machine of the very organization or its bosses over personalities sufficiently powerful or well supplied with funds to be in a position to appeal directly to the voters," declares Pertinax, political editor of Echo de Paris.

"Mr. Harding is a champion of the international political point of view against the Versailles treaty," says the Journal. "But all Frenchmen are satisfied with the elimination of Sam Johnson whose heart and spirit have never been greatly in favor of France."

RED SOX DROP TO MILTON CRESCENTS

Following a heart-breaking pitcher's duel between Flemming of the Red Sox and D. Mullins of the Milton Crescents, the Milton boys won out yesterday 4 to 3 in the ninth inning. For five innings the game belonged to anybody. Then the Crescents came across with a rally, coping three runs in their half of the ninth. Undaunted, the Sox fought their way to a run in the seventh and two more in the ninth to tie the score. Milton came back in their half of the final inning and pushed across the winning run.

Both pitchers worked hard throughout. The game was one of the best seen at Milton this season. As a result of it, the city of Milton will contribute a purse of $100 for a game between the two teams on July 5, as part of the Independence Day celebration there.

WATERTOWN AHEAD IN CENTRAL STATE

CENTRAL STATE LEAGUE SUNDAY'S RESULTS

Jefferson 3, Whitewater 2.
Watertown 3, Fort Atkinson 1.
By virtue of her victory over Fort Atkinson on Sunday by a score of 3 to 1, Watertown maintained her position among the leaders in the Central State league. Bern, who a few weeks ago turned in a no hit game, came near duplicating his former feat when he let down the Pons, who one hit hit Goshell, Catcher Hornick late in the game. Rein, hurling for Watertown, was also in wonderful shape and he held the Pons to four scattered bingles.

Dodge had the better of Brodie in a twirling duel, and as a result Jefferson downed her long time enemy, Whitewater, by a count of 3 to 2. Both pitchers twirled fine ball, Brodie allowing six hits and Dodge five.

Whitewater, Wis.—Jefferson won from Whitewater here Sunday afternoon 3 to 2 in a pitchers' duel between Dodge and Brodie, in which Dodge had the better of the tussle. Whitewater, by a count of 3 to 2, struck out nine men.
